Philipse Manor
Inn

On the Hudson River

THE INN

Is situated within 200 yards of the river, on rising ground, in a restricted colony. It has an unobstructed view of many miles, which is not surpassed for extent or beauty, and yet is within a short distance of New York City. Sunsets on the river, both winter and summer, are beyond description.

Rooms are of unusual size. Some are provided with open fireplaces and some have balcony, while all have large windows which look out either upon the river, or the Sleepy Hollow country. They are tastefully furnished; are cool and airy in summer, and in winter are protected with double window-sash and heated by a hot water system. Ample closet space is a feature of all the rooms.

The atmosphere is that of a home, and the endeavor is to help in solving the present-day problem of living conditions, by providing the pleasant things of home, without its attendant responsibility and uncertainties.

There is no more beautiful country than this part of Westchester County, which offers excellent roads of great diversity to motorists, as well as attractive and interesting walks to those who enjoy them. Fall and winter are no less beautiful than spring and summer. There is opportunity for skating, snow shoeing and out-of-door life, with a comfortable background of rest and relaxation.

Rates by the day or week. Week-end parties accommodated.

Luncheon — Dinner — Afternoon tea served.

Correspondence, or better still, a personal visit invited.
